

Coronavirus in our Communities

Our lives changed in March 2020, as the state and county governments began responding to a global pandemic that had reached us here in north central Indiana. COVID-19 is a contagious and unpredictable illness, capable of death and disruption. In the midst of this once-in-a-lifetime collective experience, the Community Foundation Serving Howard, Clinton and Carroll Counties was there to help provide a predictable and tangible response to those in need.

In addition to our traditional grants, the Foundation has developed a simplified Rapid Response grant application. Rapid Response grants have been awarded to nonprofit organizations in our tri-county area. From food banks to counseling centers, the disbursements helped with local food distribution, human services, virtual services and other emergency sources of care. A measured approach will anticipate potential extended funding requirements during the recovery phase.

We offer thoughts, words of hope and prayers to those families in our community who have lost loved ones or experienced COVID-19. For others who may be suffering or struggling, we stand ready to help through our nonprofits partners who are responding with excellence throughout this unprecedented crisis.
